Herald Gets County Printing.

The county court on Monday awarded the contract for the county printing for a period of two years, ending in May, 1918, to the Hayti Herald. Its bid was 25 cents per square for the first insertion and 18 for each subsequent one.

The only other bidder was the Pemisot Argus, the bid of which was respectively 45 cents and 22 cents per square. The Argus has had the contract for the past six years.

This price will result in the saving to the county of many dollars, as there will be some big publications this fall, owing to the general election work.—Car-ruthersville Argus.

By way of a comment we might state that heretofore for the past two years the Argus has been doing the printing for the county for 25 cents per square for the first insertion and 20 cents per square for each subsequent insertion.

So this shows that The Hayti Herald did not bid so much under the old price, but, had the Herald not bid on this year's printing Pemisot county would have spent at least $1,000.00 more per year for the printing. Thus the Herald has saved the people of Pemisot county the neat little sum of about $1,000.00. Not so bad, is it?

At the price the Herald is getting, we will not make so very much out of it, but the Herald will gain in its subscription list.
The better the subscription list, the more profitable it is to the advertiser to use its columns.
Should the Herald have laid down as the other papers in Car-ruthersville did, the Argus would have received the county printing for the nice little sum of 45 cents for the first insertion and 22 cents for each subsequent insertion. Now, what does it cost?

Let us figure. For four issues of any publication as bid by the Argus the price would be 45 plus 22 plus 22 plus 22, or a total of $1.11. The Herald gets .79.
Thus, the county saves during the next two years on every square inch of advertising just 32 cents. That isn't so bad, is it?
Readers, just glance over the columns of the Herald this week, and you can tell from the beginning which is the peoples' paper of the county. The Herald is first and all the time for the upbuilding of the county, and for financial saving in the county's finances. And to do this we must ask that you give us your united help. Without your help, the Herald cannot continue in the good position that it is.

An Illustrated Directory.

The Lower House of Congress has decided that the Congress-sional Directory shall be illustrated. Heretofore the directory has appeared with no pictures or with only a view of the Capitol and a lot of utterly inartistic maps of congressional districts, but that condition is to come to an end.

The next directory will have not less than 531 pictures in it, that being the exact number of Representatives and Senators; and—need we add—each picture will be the portrait of a member of Congress. Of course the gentleman who introduced the resolution providing for this department did not claim that he was laboring for the advancement of decorative art. He called attention to the claims of posterity and the historical value of the record that would be made by a collection of 531 portraits of distinguished Americans in each issue of the directory.—St. Louis Republic.

Not one Congressman even imagined, we suppose, that the presence of his portrait in the directory would insure the possession of it by every newspaper in the United States. However, one may expect to see the portraits of a great many Congressmen in the daily prints after the next directory is out that never got in before; and then, there is another thing: A considerable number of Congressmen may find at the next session, for the first time in their lives, that somebody in Congress besides the Speaker and the members of their own state delegation has learned to know them by sight.

J. E. Duncan and family of Car-ruthersville motored over to this city Monday night.

Have you seen those new Middies at letter. Thanks.

Mrs. M. M. Smitherman left Saturday for an extended visit with her brother, H. W. Barnes and family, at Troy Tennessee.
This is the first time Mrs. Smitherman has been to the old home in eighteen years and no doubt will find many changes. She was accompanied by her son-in-law, Walter Barnes, who will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W.

W. O. W. CIRCLE No. 159
PECAN GROVE CAMP

Hayti, Mo., May 10, 1916.
Mrs. Mollie P. Gwin, member of W. O. W. Circle Pecan Grove Camp No. 159, Hayti, Mo., died Sunday afternoon, April 23, 1916, aged 58 years.

Mrs. Gwin became a member of the Circle April 29, 1909, and was the first to be called from the Grove by death since its organization in 1907. She was one of the best and most devoted members, and the Grove mourns her departure to that land where the Great Forest is always Living Green.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That, in remembrance of her deep devotion to this, the fraternal grove, the charter of same be draped in mourning the usual period; and,

That we extend our deepest sympathy and condolence to the bereaved family, who will miss her more than we—more than they can now, perhaps, realize.

Be it also resolved that a copy of these resolutions be attached to the minutes of the fraternity;
and,

That a copy be sent to each of the local papers for publication;
and,

That a copy be sent to the bereaved husband, F. M. Gwin.

hands. Mr. Smith reports that his wife is not very well, having been confined to her bed for the past ten days, suffering with an affection of the spine. He probably will take her to St. Louis
